Lash Extensions Timeline

1 Week

Lashes are growing and extensions are looking longer. Remember to brush daily!

2 Weeks

The perfect time for a refill, some have begun to grow out and some new natural lashes are ready to be filled. Any grown out lashes will be removed and replaced. Usually around 50% of lashes will remain.

3 Weeks

At this point, around 40% of the extensions remain, although many will have grown out. It is still OK to get a refill done but a longer appointment will be required to get you back to a full set look. As more lashes will be grown out, some more will need removing and replacing.

4 Weeks

By this stage most of the extensions will be grown out far up the natural lash, which will start to put a strain on the root of the lash and they can become uncomfortable. Some of the extensions could potentially become too heavy for the natural lash and start to twist.

5 Weeks

At this stage, 20-30% of the lashes will remain meaning a good time to replace and book in a full set!
